A cordwainer (or cordovan) is somebody who makes shoes and other articles from fine soft leather. The word is derived from "cordwain", or "cordovan", the leather produced in Córdoba, Spain. (This has no connection with the so-called "Corinthian leather" used in the Cordoba automobile.) Historically, there was a distinction between a cordwainer, who made shoes, and a cobbler, who repaired them. However, this distinction gradually weakened, particularly during the twentieth century, with the predominance of shoe retailers who neither made nor repaired the shoes themselves. Ref: Wikipedia

George never married and lived with his sister Beatrice and her husband Horace Cave at the Frearson parental home Oak Villas, Brooks Lane, Whitwick (block of 3 x 3 storey houses now demolished) and later at 292 Thornborough Road, Coalville Leicestershire. George liked the country life and shooting and often followed the hounds on foot, or as a 'beater'. He had several guns which he used on rabbits and pigeons to supplement the larder! He was also a very able gardener and had an allotment on Thornborough Road, Coalville. He is remembered by my Uncle Tom as quite a dapper dresser, always neatly turned out. Suffered an accident down the pit, badly injuring, if not breaking, his back. After a few weeks in Burton & Loughborough Hospitals, where his life was virtually written off, he spent 12 months in recovery, lying flat on his back at Harlow Wood Orthopaedic Hospital,

Alan Frearson Bn 1926 Nottingham, (we knew him as Uncle Max) did change his name also, unsure how old but found him on the Electoral Roll as The Count Lazard and that was the only year he was registered anywhere that I can find so far but still working on it. He was a lovely charming man so my mother remembers and my father spent a lot of time with him growing up. He was a Circus Proprietor and travelled across the world and widely remembered by many. He left the business and brought a tea and coffee restaurant, he sadly became ill and later died in Welshpool 1982. I didn't get chance to know him but he was very close to my father and taught my him many circus acts. (Great Niece Kerri Nikoleini March 2011, GR)

1919 Marriage recorded in the Nottingham District of Nottinghamshire, Volume 7b Page 1120:

Born 15th August 1893. As a young woman my Granny (known as Beattie) had thick, long auburn hair and had a trim figure - a 21" waist at 21!! Left school at 13 and was apprenticed as a seamstress/dressmaker at a house in Mantle Lane, Coalville. She spent the first 2 years picking up pins from the floor, it must have been a long, hard apprenticeship! She loved clothes and fashion and was always very smartly turned out. She worked in a munitions factory in Nottingham during the first war. Met Horace Cave and married in Nottingham in 1919. One daughter, Rosamond Beatrice Sarah born 1927 - my lovely Mum!! remember Granny as fundamentally a kind soul, though she could have quite an acid tongue at times! She cooked well, her meat and potato pie and suet puddings were my favourites as a child. She made all my dresses when I was young and took great delight in doing so after the disappointment of my brother's arrival prior to mine - no chance of making dresses with frills for him! She was absolutely heart broken when Grandad died, I will never forget just how upset she was, it made quite an impact on me at the time - a rather rebellious and unruly 16 year old. (Jo Tudor, Granddaughter)
